LAKSHADWEEP : A PANORAMIC VIEW

1. One of the world's most spectacular tropical islands, Lakshadweep is tucked away about 200-400 km off the Malabar Coast. The islands offer a precious heritage of ecology and culture. The unique feature of the Island is its coral reef, making it a pristine leisure spot to come back to, 4200 Sq km of lagoon, rich in marine wealth and is spread over 36 islands in an area of about 32 Sq km.
2. The underwater view at Lakshadweep is Kaleidoscopic and breathtaking. The lagoon offers excellent potential for water sports like swimming, wind surfing, diving, snorkelling and kayaking. No wonder, Lakshadweep is fast becoming India's one of its kind "Adventure Sport – Nature Tourism" location.
3. Lakshadweep means a hundred thousand islands. Each island is fringed by snow white coral sands. The crystal clean water and the abundant marine life enhance the beauty of these islands. Against the vast expanse of the blue sea, the islands look like emeralds. The huge shallow calm lagoon on one side with wall like reef made of marine live coral boulders block the incoming swells of the outer sea. The islands are linked to the mainland by ship, helicopter and passenger aircrafts and mechanised sailing wooden vessels. The islands like AGATTI and BANGARAM can be reached by air and the other islands can be reached by ship from Kochi. In all the islands, elaborate infrastructure is in place to meet the needs of tourists. Lakshadweep was given the National Eco-Tourism Award 1997.

A BRIEF PRE-HISTORY AND HISTORY

4. Although theories on the formation of the islands abound, the most accepted one is attributed to Sir Charles Darwin, the renowned evolutionist. He opined that the base of the islands below the reef is a volcanic layer over which corals settled and turned into atolls, over a period of time. The atolls consisting of the islands and lagoon are in various stages of development. The smaller lagoons are virtually filled with sediments. The later ones are deeper in the range of 10-16 metres. The enchanting aspect of these islands is due to the Coral Reef, biologically formed over many centuries. As of now, it extends along the coast, giving Lakshadweep its unique stature.
5. This spectacular island group is believed to have been discovered by shipwrecked sailors during the reign of Cheraman Perumal, the legendary king of Kerala in the 4th Century AD. Before moving into the hands of the British, Tippu Sultan held the Islands after defeating the oppressive rulee of Arackal.
6. The Union Territory was formed in 1956 and it was named Lakshadweep in 1973. All the islands now constitute one District for administration with four Tehsils. The administrative headquarters is at KAVARATTI, the Administrator being the Head of the Union Territory. Each island has a democratic set up with elected members. At Union Territory level, there is a District Panchayat with members elected from each Village/Dweep Panchayat.

FLORA AND FAUNA

7. What meets the eye at first glance is the lush green colour that gracious tall palm trees paint. Undoubtedly, coconut is the only commercial crop. Deep green shrubs known locally as Kanni, Chalam, Chavok, Punna and Cheerani characteristically border the base of coconut palms. Ipomoea is a conspicuous ground runner. Shrubs and runners play a strong role in preventing erosion. The State tree is the bread fruit tree. Common farm species that people tend are Cows, Goats and Ducks. Rats as usual are a menace to coconut crops. There are no snakes on the islands. Only a few islands have crows. Common sea birds are Taratashi (Sterna Fuscate) and Karifetu (Anus Folidus), the former being the State bird. Most of them nest on an island called Pitti – a bird sanctuary. Apart from common forms of life, exotic, kaleidoscopic life under water is abundant and marvellous. As a result of rich life, there always exists competition for food, shelter and mates. To cope up with this, some day dream and wake up at night allowing others to have their meal by the day. Strikingly the colourful fishes draw one's attention by their interesting behaviour, peculiar forms and captivating movements. Gracefully swimming from place to place are the butterfly fishes resembling butterflies in the underwater garden. Grazers of the green pastures are Surgeon fishes. Of great many varieties of surgeons, the one commonly seen is the Powder Blue Surgeon fish. They are called so because of a razor like spine they carry near the tail. Because of strong beaks, the Parrot fishes attained their name. Cute Damsel fishes live among branching corals showing territorial behaviour. Earthly pincushion aliens are Porcupine fishes that inflate themselves into a ball, erecting the spines when disturbed. A similar cousin to them is the Puffer fish. Snake – like resident of dark crevices are Moray Eels which hunt by smell at night and their enemy is the Octopus as it seeks the same dark resting places.

8. Sedentary and slow moving creatures are Sea Cucumbers, Shelled animals (Molluscs) and Hermit Crabs. A variety of crabs, lobsters and shrimps inhabit the crevices of corals. Lots of food fishes inhabit the coral atolls. The Mas – Choral or Chooru, as people of Lakshadweep call Tuna, is their chicken of the seas & is mainly caught using poles and lines, with live bait to charm them. Playful Dolphins, Turtles, Rays and Flying fishes are occasionally seen by keen observers.

LANGUAGES, MANNERS & CUSTOMS

9. A dialect of Malayalam is spoken in the inhabited islands. In MINICOY, Mahi is the language used. The 'Nikaah' takes place in the Mosque or at the bride's residence. In MINICOY, the marriage ceremony is relatively simple. The expenses for the functions are borne by the bridegroom's family. An interesting feature of MINICOY is the absence of the parents from certain functions related to the marriage. The average household has 3 – 4 rooms. Minimum furniture is used in homes. A swinging cot is a very common feature.

10. Rice is the staple food of the people. As a rule, the people are non – vegetarians. Coconut is widely used. The manner of dressing of the people is simple and similar to the Muslims of the Malabar Coast. The dress code of Minicoyans is distinct from the other islanders. Jeans and trousers are popular. The territory has a closely – knit community life. In MINICOY, community life is centred around village institutions known as – Avah.

FOLK ARTS

11. Kolkali and Parichakali are the two popular folk art forms in the Territory. They are an integral part of the cultural milieu except in MINICOY, where "LAVA" is the most popular dance form. Some of the folk dances have a resemblance with those in North Eastern India.

12. For marriages "OPANA" is a common feature, a song sung by a lead singer and followed by a group of women. Picnics are a common leisure activity in MINICOY. The most widely celebrated festivals are Id Ul Fitr, Bakrid, Milad-Un-Nabi and Muharram.

INDUSTRY AND OCCUPATION

13. The majority of the people depend on coconut and fish for occupation. The traditional industry revolves around tuna, coir, vinegar, jaggery and copra making. Although the boat building industry has suffered, the traditional skills still exist. The people of KAVARATTI have considerable skills as stone masons and carpenters. Coir based industries are also one of the oldest areas of activity. MINICOY is an important centre for tuna fishing and a tuna-canning factory is located here.

Kavaratti Island is not approachable by large ships and transshipment to smaller boats is necessitated for reaching the island. Chances of mishap can be avoided by thorough briefing and orderly move of the participants. To obviate any mishap during move, the following will be ensured :-

- (a) No water borne activity will be undertaken by a non-swimmer excepting Glass Bottom Boat Ride and Inter Island visit.
- (b) All cadets participating in any adventure activity will be medically examined by the MO for fitness.
- (c) Each participant can only venture in the waters when properly geared and it will be ensured by the PI Staff/GCI that they have secured their life jackets properly.
- (d) Each cadet will be briefed prior to taking part in the activity on aspects of “What to Expect” and when fully confident will be allowed to undertake the activity.
- (e) Prior to each activity a head count of participants will be taken and all participants will be accounted for again after every activity.
- (f) It will be the responsibility of the Training Officer to brief regarding the schedule of activities planned for the next day, on a daily basis.

10. Security of the camp will be organised centrally under the Deputy Camp Commandant who will also perform the duties of the Chief Security Officer. His duties will be as follows:-

- (a) He will ensure that the camp is adequately guarded during both day and night to prevent any untoward incident. He will decide upon the number of guards required during both day and night to safeguard the security of the camp.
- (b) He will continuously monitor the training activity through available subordinates to ensure accident- free conduct of camp.
- (c) He will issue passes to all civilian employees like cooks, safaiwalas and the civilian staff working in the camp for the duration of the camp.

- (d) He will ensure that all visitors to the camp are verified, their credentials checked and only then allow them access into the camp area, after their identity has been established.
- (e) He will report and brief the Camp Commandant regarding security of the camp.
- (f) He will ensure security of the Camp area including Camp Office area, Kotes, Cook Houses etc. along with the PI staff available in the camp. Security will be augmented with the assistance of local police, PMF and local naval unit, if feasible.
- (g) He will review all places that the cadets are to visit and ensure proper guards /PI Staff are positioned where the need is felt. If signposting is required, the same shall be done before the arrival of cadets in the language that the cadets understand.
- (h) Camp Commandant shall keep check on the spread of infectious or viral diseases by instituting necessary preventive measures, in consultation with the MO and medical authorities. The Camp Commandant shall organise regular visits by the doctor at the camp location or whenever required.
- (j) He will ensure that SW cadets are provided with separate accommodation in the camp and locking facilities are available for cordoning off the area.

Security of Controlled Stores

11. Security of all types of controlled stores is of paramount importance. The Camp Commandant/Deputy Commandant will ensure its proper safe custody. The Kote will preferably be located in a central area adjoining the Quarter Guard. All arms and ammunition will be deposited in the Kotes. Chains will secure rifles, LMGs and other Small Arms. Other controlled stores will be kept in locked boxes. Live ammunition, blank rounds and empty cases will be stored in separate boxes. Kotes would be established in the Camp premises. DP weapons will be kept in the camp Kote.

Employment of Regimental Police

12. Regimental Police will consist of one Sergeant and six cadets. They will work directly under orders of the Camp Adjutant. The RP Sergeant will also brief the Deputy Camp Commandant daily to apprise him of any laxity in the security of the camp. The Regimental Police will carry out following duties :-

- (a) Maintain Visitors' Book at the Main Gate and record particulars of all visitors, purpose of visit and time of arrival and departure from the camp.
- (b) RP Sentries will be mounted at each of the following places :-
 - (i) Two Sentries at the Main Gate.
 - (ii) One Sentry at the Water Point.
 - (iii) Sentries as deemed fit by the Chief Security Officer.

- (c) The RP Sentry at the Main Gate will ensure that cadets do not leave the camp without an out pass signed by the Camp Commandant/ Camp Adjutant.

Fire Precautions

13. It is essential to maintain good fire discipline in the camp to prevent any losses due to outbreak of fire. Strict fire precautionary measures will be adopted as enumerated in the Fire Control Orders.

Fire Fighting Officer

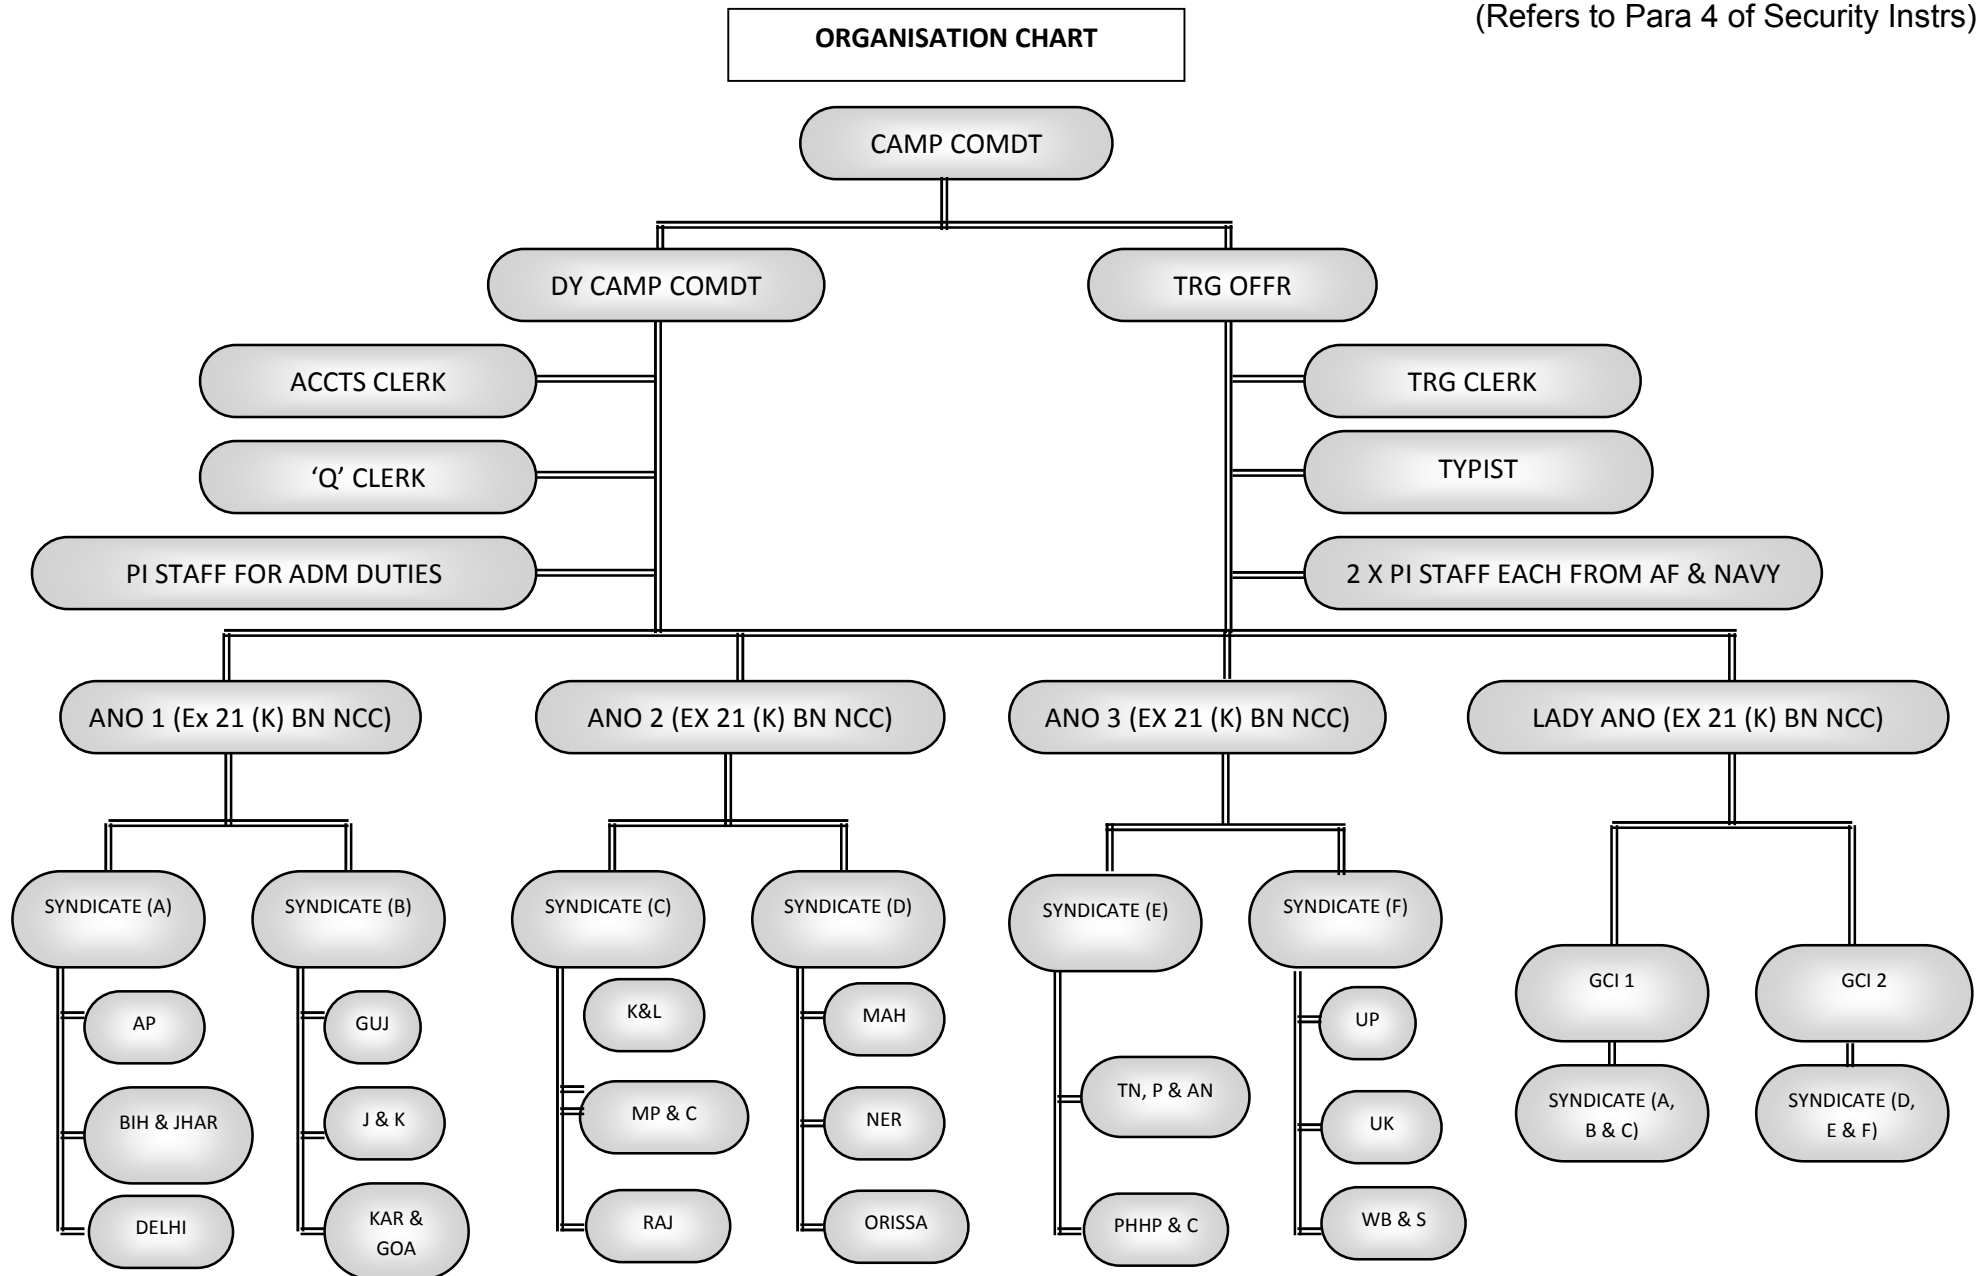

14. Deputy Camp Commandant will be nominated as the Camp Fire Fighting Officer. He will ensure that the Fire Alarm Practices are held frequently without notifying the time beforehand. Inter coy competitions in turning out promptly for a Fire Alarm Practice may be encouraged.

Conclusion

15. The above orders are to be strictly adhered to by the participating cadets' and staff and also a total 'zero tolerance' for error whilst at the camp or during the transit time will be implemented. The defaulters will be dealt with severely as per orders in vogue. Necessary orders will be issued from time to time during the camp, if required.

16. No amount of instructions will help thwart any untoward incident unless all participants are sensitised to the impending risks involved while undertaking any activity. Hence, all ranks and the cadets will be kept under strict Command and Control for ensuring safety and security of all participants. Extra vigilance and discipline will be adhered to for the entire duration of the camp. Participating Directorates will ensure that only cadets and staff meeting the QR are detailed and they be briefed properly at appropriate levels, prior to despatching them for the SNIC.

17. Para 5 of Safety and Security Instructions issued by DG NCC in Jun 2013 stipulates making Water Bodies "OUT OF BOUNDS" for cadets. Since most of the activities during SNIC are in and around the water bodies, a waiver and special dispensation for the purpose of conduct of SNIC- 17 may be issued.
